Unit 4: Enduring Understandings	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Schedules are literally tables/charts that contain keyed information of all building materials. Though they look similar, schedules denote building materials, whereas legends or keys denote equipment such as lighting or electrical switches. • Finishes are the manufacturer specific materials, not just type that is used to cover any surface of raw building material (i.e., paint, carpet, tile, etc.). • When designing interiors, ADA codes concern aisle widths, counter heights, mirror heights, etc. • When designing exteriors, ADA codes involve aisle widths, public bath requirements, parking, unloading, etc. • Fire rating is how long a material will burn before it is demolished.

Modifications for At-Risk Students

Formative and summative data will be used to monitor student success. At first signs of failure, student work will be reviewed to determine support. This may include parent consultation, basic skills review and differentiation strategies. With considerations to UDL, time may be a factor in overcoming developmental considerations. More time will be made available with a certified instructor to aid students in reaching the standards.

- Contact parents, guidance & child study if students are in danger of failing.
- Provide an assignment sheet with step-by-step instructions as well as specifications for each project.
- Provide design templates.
- Provide study guides.
- Provide extended time for written assessments.
- Extended time as needed
- Read directions aloud
- Assist with organization
- Use of computer to create, edit and store student work.
- Emphasize/highlight key concepts
- Recognize success
- Provide timelines for work completion
- Break down multi-step tasks into smaller chunks
- Provide copy of class notes and graphic organizer
